Broken People

~or~

I have hit my reality tolerance and I’m so confused!!

People today are broken especially young people! I call them ‘flakes.’ They grow up and spend all their time in fantasy worlds, cyber land, social media, jerking off to mommy, popularity blogs, gossip talk ‘reality’ shows and worse that pales Oprah to shame. These people actually believe that the real world is in social media “Waste book” likes or dislikes or a play-by-play, as the stomach turns bitch-shit-drama with the “gut wagon” flavor of Sunday afternoon with Howard Cosell narrating a TV, football game. They don’t know good manners; because, as latchkey kids, if their mothers were even there at all, mom never learned good manners to teach them in the first place. Don’t even look at me about public education. It would not know a manner, good or otherwise, if it walked up and frottaged their socialist legs! These kids were taught by skewed, talking heads of lame-mass media, MTV pop singers, TV sitcom phonies, peer-to-peer networks of other kids or just faked and bluffed hoping nobody would notice his or her ignorance. How could they notice that if her peers were just as ignorant? Kids today have no direction, no worthy role models and grow up on cartoons in a sheltered environment that is diametrically opposite to reality in toto. In my time, school shootings, suicides, and the demented, sick environments kids undergo today in public education and society were unheard of even the wildest areas of Hells Kitchen! Now this socialist disease is commonplace. All Socialist school institutions can muster in defense of their failures is to blame, cite the atrocities as fabricated, fake news from a right wing conspiracy as school janitors wash bloodstains and a kid’s head off the hallway ceiling! They move on to attack Constitutional protections such as the first amendment free speech that exposes them, when people have the balls to speak up, and then attack second amendment protections while blaming NRA because of US Socialism's destruction of our children and their safety! Never forget our wise forefathers and mothers armed us to keep these squids in their place or America would look like what was going on in RED China and Russia during the Cultural Revolution and Stalin's political purges! Read Alexander Solzhenitsyn's Gulag Archipelago in 3 volumes should any of you have questions!!! That means put down that fucking Iphone and start educating self, because you will not get any of this from American Socialists and their institutions!

I spoke to a young man recently inquiring of me about joining military. I told him do not ruin your life. I served with a gun barrel in my back, held by Socialists who called that freedom, so that you don't have, too, son; better options exist. They require persistence, hard work and determination to earn your due carving out a place in this world for you and yours. He mentioned during conversation "...why did my dad not tell me these things..." Because he never learned them, he never had a chance, and therefore could not! The man worked self to death supporting your mother & siblings! All knowledge is passed on and your dad could not teach you what he never learned. I asked this young man, how did you learn about sex? He got a wry smirk on his face. EXACTLY! In the locker room or TV or jerking off to porno on the Internet, right? Red faced he said, 'Uh-huh...' Okay that is how you learned everything else from the willful ignorant misleading the willful ignorant! You got into trouble when caught with the wrong vegetable material during a traffic stop because you did not know that a routine traffic stop needed a probable cause warrant to do a body search, right! So, you agreed to it and were caught because a cop advantaged your ignorance, right! What did your ignorance cost you? He said, '350 hours civic duty, 2000.00 dollars fine plus legal fees he is still paying, and probation'...And a butt load of misery to boot, right!?. Yeah.... Son, you did nothing wrong - you just got caught by the police state! Your sin was because you were caught! You were caught because of ignorance. The laws are bad, made by bad people to control you in a police state. Everyone must be guilty of something for that to work and you were caught.

He again asked almost unconsciously, 'why my dad does not tell me these things...' Son, again, all knowledge is passed on...he never learned it to teach you!!! When he is kept too busy to be there working to give your mother the American dream, the man cannot teach you and then your mom probably blames him for all her problems yet enjoys the lavish materialism & lifestyle he provides for you and she. *An old saying son, when you get old too soon get smart and you are ignorantly growing too old very fast. Go back to school, don't make a plan at first, fake it till you make it, choose the best options that make the most sense to you at that moment and follow them. When you do not know what to do – STOP!

THEN JUST SIT & WATCH & WAIT FOR THE BLESSING THAT IS RIGHT FOR YOU.

A famous, successful ball player once said: 'Sometimes I just sits. Sometimes I just sits & thinks. Sometimes I just sits, thinks and watches. Mostly I just sits and watches until my answer or the blessing come. [That is my success]'

HOW SIMPLE CAN IT BE?

Note: this young man's father worked self to death and died at 45 years old. He kept driving self when sick with pneumonia until collapsing at work. After arrival at the hospital he died a day later too late to recover. The hospital did all it could. The infection could not be stopped. His highbrow widow now lives alone in their McMansion and I'm sure is well provided by life insurance and stock options. His son will now never know the father who provided all the very best of the American dream that money could buy for his family. It cost him his life. Why is it one never reads or hears about losses of men like him except in the obituaries? Tell me again how bad US women have it! I bet if he could come back, review his life to repeat, this man would shun this whole fraud, buy a lake cabin, a boat, get a dog, sit and chat with the locals about best fishin spots, spend his time fishin, then at the pub tell whopper porkys about the one that got away, enjoying life, live a long time to die happy and peaceful.

Tell me again how FUCKING BAD American women have it.....

Today young people's brain food is worse than the swill they eat from fast food joints, frozen to microwave to one bite into the dog's dish and Fido is smart enough to take one sniff, piss on it and walk away. "You trying to kill me," says Fido? It is not the kid's fault adult supervision and teachings are absent. All knowledge is passed on - that null and void belongs to the AWOL parents and Socialist American institutions that have abandoned & failed them and their kids.

In America, people take better care of their pets than their kids.

And it shows!! If the kid gets any attention it is between two warring parents fighting with the child between them like two Rottweilers tearing apart a rag doll over custody for child support. Fighting over money not for the kid's sake. After that the kid is forgotten into the neglect dustbin.... Consequently, a child's development freezes somewhere between 4 – 7 years old and emotionally, mentally s/he remains static while the rest grows into a fully reproductive adult. An adult person in all physical respects perpetually going on 4-7 years old, dysfunctionally broken in the reality of a functional adult life still sucking his or her thumb, holding a comfort toy, hiding in a corner as a frightened child. I see this daily in the world. A young woman who is working as a teacher, medical assistant, office & clerical in government bureaucracy - especially, USPS, VA office & bureaucracy or other field suited for hiring mostly women or perhaps as an MD or nurse or office manager. She mechanically, marginally knows the job enough to get by perhaps learning it from school, vocational or career training; however, she is too immature and emotionally undeveloped to actually hold up under pressure. I call this her 'reality boundaries.' She still resolves things as a 4-7 year old child would instead of as a 20+ year-old developing woman. Essentially she functions as frightened child stuck in an aging 20+ year-old woman's body. This especially causes trouble between sexes when she realizes the power of persuasion that her sexual organs have to get her way, which causes trouble in society especially in gender mixed workplace and similar environments. Another area is in a medical setting or as first responder dealing with emergencies involving very sick, injured, and dying people. Don't even talk to me about what she encounters in military war theaters. Realities of death are tough actualities for most anyone not suited to dealing with it in reality. Cinema and Hollywood present dying and death in a surrealist fantasy of not actual life. When an actor or actress dies in one episode but remains alive in another that is not real presentation! When her mother dies and does not get up the next morning.... that is a shock beyond imagination to the woman-child as a first death exposure of actuality outside her fantasy boundary. THAT SHOCK IS REAL AND INJURIOUS FROM THEN ON.

Those who control us today keep people very ignorant about human death, dying, sickness, development, and the circle of life!! Some even think such ignorance is funny and publicly declares such lunacy! Ie. An MD authoring her book made fun of young girls and women who do not know that she has three holes at the bottom end of her body and what these do as part of being a normal, healthy, human female. That right there is a glaring failure of the women in her life from home through primary education! In my era, mothers usually taught her daughters about unique aspects of a female body. Moreover, school gym, home economics, biology, and health classes at public school covered these aspects of human body development at least as rudimentary introduction to all students as basic curriculum in grade school. Most certainly by high school!

What in the hell is going on at schoolhouses these days?

Furthermore, an MD making fun of female ignorance as a selling point for her book needs to grow the hell up and mature! Instead of profiting making fun of female anatomical confusion, she needs to as someone at her level, an MD, to begin demanding answers about why are these girls being raised and educated as human brood cows instead of as women!

Essentially everyone comes in and goes out the same!! One comes in shitting in a baby diaper and goes out shitting in an adult 'Depends' diaper! However, it is how western society & her people treat and mistreat the human element at these dualities that needs remedial attention - NOW!!

At birth a newborn grows into life over years and that is a painful process. Ever hear a baby scream? THAT IS PAIN!! We accept that, somewhat, in raising babies throughout early development to young adulthood. However, where Western humanity fails is at the opposite end of that continuum - at the end of human life cycle. Ending life is an out going process of decline, dying, and death – the reverse of arrival. That reverse process is also very painful but receives the least amount of mercy from the very people from which it is most needed! Elderly are tossed in a warehouse corner to suffer, rot, and die already!!! Their contributions over a lifetime to America & the world, as a whole, as a group, go unappreciated and unrewarded as sentiments of 'DIE ALREADY.' They face disposal with the fanfare of recycling an empty soft drink bottle!!! American culture is one of the few that does not respect and revere its aged as wise elders for their wisdom of the years!!! Almost a century each person in many cases! That alone seriously screams America's immature development as a civilization barely beyond Primeval naked apes, wearing hairy armpits, butts, screeching and throwing naked ape turds, sticks and stones at each other from inside their grass huts. Very sad for those who sacrificed their lives suffering to build by those who went before them what current youthful society enjoys nearly free and for nothing! The new generations simply adds on to the existing blood, sweat, tears and lives – IF THAT MUCH - to what the trailblazers created while raising the current generation of snot nosed brats into adulthood that enjoy it.

When my parents got married they were two kids with personal problems; then after marriage had to integrate those into a mutual working relationship involving more and now combined problems; then I came along as an added set of totally alien problems as a fresh life that depended on them completely to literally survive. What did they now have? Every thing that did not work along with dirty diapers, a mysterious, confusing, fussy, colicky newborn keeping them awake all night without knowing why and maternity bills from hell; then compounding an already messy situation mom is pregnant with my sister.

OH SHIT, UNDERSTATED HER TERROR!

Tell me again about that heaven sent little bundle of joy delivered by storks?

Dad said after sister arrived mom had the shotgun constantly in hand to get even with the storks, which sometimes made him very nervous. Only thing saved his ass was that she needed his help as backup and he brought home milk money. He hid the shotgun and shells the family kept around for two legged snakes. However, regularly tested her eyesight to ensure that she could clearly identify 'snakes as snakes' especially when he had to take a bath or shower. Don't want a stork shy woman with a shotgun mistaking his 'willy' aka 'one-eyed tube-snake' during bath time as a floating serpent in the tub. Shotguns make big holes in bathtubs and they are not easy to fix, as you know.

In sum, my parents did their best, which makes them the very best parents I could ever have had.

1. Mom finally got over her fear of snakes but storks still rankle her a bit.
2. Mom's exact words were, 'having babies hurts like a motherfucker!'
3. Mom's vocabulary was rather colorful but she did make her point.

I will tell you now that parenting and old age are not for sissies. Do not even try this at home until backed up against the wall screaming, ‘Damn the toilet seat, come and get me you bitches’ while holding a ‘12-pk of Depends’ in each hand set on auto fire and a canister of Sure in your mouth with the pin pulled!! Do not even look at me...old age sucks and is not for the sissy or pussified of heart.

Now back to broken people. Males. When in the military I ran into my first ‘broken male people’ or ‘flake’ out in the field. Military is like civilian life instead of getting rid of trouble or placing it somewhere safe and out of harm to others, military transfers them. Why is it these birds never self-destruct? It is always the guys doing their jobs that take the hit while flakes like that walk away clean! Go figure....that is the paradox of ‘military intelligence.’ If it had any ‘intelligence’ the services would get rid of flakes instead of keeping them!!! In other words, like civilians, military simply moves the ‘identified problem’ or IP somewhere else to surprise the people who inherit the new headache, as if military life does not have enough of those already. Sometimes even ‘12 virgins’ seem preferable to military life. I will get to that later. Therefore to bromide these headaches, supply buys aspirin in the 55-gallon drum size, if you get my drift. Normally the old man could keep flakes out of my unit. On this deployment he must have been playing with himself. Two days before a deployment this new guy shows up in my unit. Lucky, fucking me. I noticed he seemed like a mama’s boy but I did not have time to do a check out: we are leaving, NOW! I told him to stay on my back per Gospel Rules from BMT and they are: Rule #1) never screw over anyone with nothing left to lose. S/he will take you with them should they ‘blow.’ BTW, that is why Russia and smartass, wannabe America following her in where ‘fools rush in where even Russia now fears to tread’ got our Asses kicked and names taken in Middle East & Afghanistan. Those people are dirt poor, tougher than western pussies will ever be with nothing left to lose! Taking infidels with them to heaven when they ‘blow’ means box seats at heaven’s best ‘titty-bar and grill’ watching the ball games. Who in hell wants 12 virgins? I do not think there are enough aspirins in the universe to undergo a pain in the ass that big. To prove my point, as an experiment confine 12 females virgin or otherwise in the same peaceful space and note the microseconds before WW3 breaks out. Ever wonder why Sultans never hung around his harems? They were located in Siberia accessible only by Yak, he stayed at the Taj Mahal behind lock and key and only he had the key, and even that was too close for his comfort. The only reason he did this was hormones and curse of the puberty witch, which began with an obsessive madness of jacking off just to keep his hands busy. Smokers don’t have shit on this addiction. Rumor has it that all his concubines wore Geo-monitoring bracelets on their legs should one venture out of safekeeping into general population. Red FUCKING alert...escapee, armed and very dangerous!!! Get out the nets, don’t touch her, she is contagious! Even Covid runs away... I can think of one, extremely happy Sultan when the puberty witch’s curse lapsed into impotence. Whew! That shit is over and look how many rubles I saved dumping that unruly harem – aka royal pain in the ass – onto my ‘ol buddy Khomeini. Hell, now I can buy another country in just what I saved supplying tampons! Those crazy b*tches drove Khomeini bat-shit crazy. That fixed the prick for stiffing me on that ‘oil’ deal way back.

Rule # 2) you are a target. Watch each other’s backs because everyone else sees them only as targets.

Rule #3), look out for each other because that is all you got.

Which leads me to broken men.

Broken men. First day out my back man flakes. He hit his reality boundary and wants to go home. Dude, this is real not fantasy and home is along way off by C130, which is not due back for days. I pulled him aside and said, ‘get your shit together now. I need you. If someone takes me out the back I cover is next. It is people like you who live to get 100% VA benefits and then spend their fucking lives in one of their wannbe quack-fuck-shrink’s offices whining about survivor’s guilt. While vets like my men who truly need that help are abandoned to die in a skid row gutter. Get it together or to save my men, I will shoot you now and list the loss as MIA. I swear!’ Then gave him a good shake, stood well back, crossed my arms, and waited. After that I was watching him instead of my job but not for the reasons of rule #3. Give me a reason asshole, just one. We got home without any losses. I told the second grab my gear, go to debrief I will catch up there. Then went straight to the old man’s office and told him get that flake off my team now before I kill him. Never saw him again after that...Dear new squadron: SURPRISE! Why is it never these flakes but the guys who are doing their jobs that buy the farm? I did my time and got out. Never lost a man on active duty; the losses were from suicide after discharge because they did not get needed care from VA and this country. Meanwhile the flakes get 100% disability to whine in a VA clinic about survivor’s guilt or that they misfired jerking off to mommy while the system abandons my guys to blow of their heads alone and forgotten. I am helpless to do a goddamned thing. Go figure!

Now, in a civilian situation my attitude towards flakes still holds true: DON’T FUCKING LOOK AT ME! I do not carry a burp towel and pacifier with me and my shoulder is not big enough to comfort adult crybabies. Never did and I am not changing this late in the game. When I am seeing a doctor or nurse, male or female, about a serious problem when that person minimizes, denies, patronizes, cuts me off from hearing my complaint from ‘nose to tail’ that is ‘flaking’ on me. I will not get help if this person is scared of their shadow, of malpractice, too careful following only someone else’s lead and staying solely safe to not make a mistake or take a chance. That is my ass s/he is failing and I want to be as far from that or any ‘flake’ as possible. Ie, the asshole driver cutting in and out of traffic that later on down the freeway, as police are marshalling the cars slowly into one lane, as they file past and rubber neck the scene, s/he is in a 6 car pile up with that fool as the pivot person. Nice going flake. Glad I was not around when you ran out of luck.

This happens when a person has hits their personal 'reality boundary & safety limit or comfort zone' while still living in a paper doll fantasy or jerking off to mommy when hitting the wall of reality. In this case, reality is the ass end of a stopped car in freeway traffic at rush hour, on a Friday afternoon before a Super Bowl weekend. FUBAR!

When I wish to experience bitch-shit tantrums, and immature flakes I will visit a romper-room daycare or Ms. Whoopee Cushion's Playhouse...DON[T COUNT ON THAT...not a healthcare clinic. When I visit a clinic, hospital, or ER I expect adult, mature, competent people that can do the goddamned job while cutting on my ass under pressure and duress without 'flaking' on me! That is the only ass I got, and I never heard of an ass transplant and I gotta sit on something you know. And that, that environment is grounded in reality not in semantics of a 'Froffie the dog,' matriarchal, misandrist, drama, of adult-4-year-olds playing doctor. Not on my ass you won't!

Once upon a time, physician residency requirements were grueling and tough to weed out the flakes theoretically leaving only qualified people who could function under pressure. Now, like in the military, those requirements are nearly gone from lowering the bar to sub-ground level allowing 'quota' flakes to qualify. That is not reality! People who should not be in those places fill 'token quota' or 'qualified flake positions' that deny truly, genuine, capable individuals from filling the job, and that weak link shows up when sh*t hits the fan - no matter what direction it flies in from they always fail first. Ie. An Emergency Room turns into a Marx Brothers festival with Keystone Cops as our guests on tonight's episode of 'ER Implodes and Burns,' second season. When their fantasy worlds fall apart, they flake and real people are really hurt, really crippled, and really killed. And those fools walk away clean. Doubt that? Visit any VA hospital or clinic and scream SUICIDE. Screaming FIRE pales in comparison on how fast a VA building will empty after screaming SUICIDE. I SWEAR!!

The same paradigm goes for everywhere else in business. Walmart lost so many customers because of check out employees & floor associates taking her bad moods and such out on shoppers that it has nearly, completely, replaced human checkout with automation. Self-check, do it yourself machines, and the company has mechanized more vast areas to save its business model from 'broken people syndrome' & sabotage occurring from employee lack of 'emotional control,' people skills, poor manners,' bitch-shit retaliation, unethical 'childish' behavior, and 'immaturity' among employees that spiraled out of control. US jobs are being eliminated by the millions because of 'broken people syndrome.' One especially notes this in govt bureaucracies and private companies as well. Within them is 'a cut the tall poppy' mentality that keeps everyone dead and at the lowest level of incompetence. Public school student peer pressure does the same in classrooms. It drives out the best and brightest or destroys them to lowest mean of the whole. The cost: losing the best employees and students! When they leave, a firm loses the edge that often is all that separates a growing company from success or bankruptcy. Exception is in government taxpayer agencies as VA who get overpaid just to exist doing little more than cashing their paychecks. They get by using 'creative accounting tricks' to bill GAO aka taxpayers for services to ghosts. Ie. GAO caught VA submitting treatment billing for dead veterans gleamed from cemetery lists over decades. I bet if a real audit were conducted these same ghosts voted in the last national elections, too. No wonder Mr. Trump and Mr. Wilkie are pissed. To quiet another VA scandal, now GAO requires

VA to submit verifiable, living, breathing...on life support is okay its in the VA handbook....veterans, at least living when the bill was turned in for payment. Ie. Hey! Doc! Yo! Bones, make sure to date that death certificate to read after the billing cycle, ya hear. The stiff is in the cooler and not going anywhere until after we get paid. We know where he lives..... GO FIGURE!

These are Dysfunctional humans who never matured, grew up, and cannot deal with stresses of everyday reality outside of their ‘fantasy & comfort zones.’ In other words, beyond or outside of the learned helplessness envelope one finds in sheltered, Socialist daycare, & institutional, educational, cocoons, outside of which the young and too many older people simply cannot function! They never grew up; they never learned how, the education and social structures kept them as learned, helpless slaves and businesses are not in commerce to pay and raise adult children!! That is the ‘Matrix’ meme from a Hollywood movie that cinema puppies have turned into a cult one sees so much about on the Internet these days. They are participating as matrix slaves without even realizing it. ‘Matri-X’ or matriarchal cocoon..... As an aside...Hollywood stole the Matrix story from a woman author who wrote the original. Hollywood purloined her story, perverted it with Hollywood’s standard sex, violence, blah, blah, blah hiding the author’s underlying message. She had to sue Hollywood for copyright to be paid for her original product..... Nothing new... RIAA, MPAA and such scream about media piracy; however, they are the biggest thieves and pirates of all. Microsoft is software king of pirates...just ask Sun Micro-systems who authored the first open source Office Suites. Sun was powerful enough to win in court against Mr. Gates and his merry band of cutthroats for stealing their system, re-branding, proprietizing, and selling Open Office as MS Office. Smaller firms simply folded into MS selling their companies for nothing after MS destroyed them in legal battles fighting MS against theft or piracy of their software. Overall, the claimed piracy crisis is simply a return to them of what they have been doing since Adam Boinked Eve with the snake recording the first porno film titled, “Two Naked Apes Bonking in the ‘Garden’” and as a voyeur he was also jerking off in the apple trees. The monkey’s below asked, ‘the suns shining why is it raining?’ THOSE ARE NOT RAINDROPS FALLING ON YOUR HEAD, BINKY.

I swear the title “Two Naked Apes Bonking in the ‘Garden’” is in the library of Congress and helps those fools reconnect to their primeval glandular urges during sensitivity classes late at night. Library of Congress uncatalogued reference: ‘Interns’ under Bill Clinton’s reign of terror when he established firmly that ‘blow jobs’ are not sex. Monica swears that she did not swallow.’ Her defense lawyers say that she was just washing his golf balls after a game of hole in one. Make sure to wash that apple before biting it...never know if a horny snake has been watching porno, on his smart phone after reading bible stories in the library of Congress, while hiding in the apple trees.

Ever wonder what a snake’s prick looks like? Me neither.

Responsible, stable, male providers and solid unbroken families still exist in USA!!! Just ask two of the most break-proof family cultures or villages in this country – the Amish & Hispanics!!! Though modern Hispanic women sometimes do work outside of the family, it is not for her but in doing her part as wife & mother to provide her best for 'her' family! The most important life goal of a traditional Hispanic woman is to become Mrs. Ramirez, Mrs. Hernandez, Mrs. Gomez and her husband & family remain the #1 object of her life!!! Hispanic culture from my direct observation has one of the toughest, functional and break proof family structures of any culture in America except the Amish!! Yes, they have problems like everyone else; however, the idiom that 'families that play together stay together' follows this in that they also overcome their problems together as a 'family-village' to remain break-proof against American Socialist forces doing its best to divide, conquer and destroy them as it has the rest; especially black and white families that are now born broken...their babies shit broken in broken diapers!!! THAT IS BROKEN! Which is the result of over 90-years of wrongheaded, socialist policy in America that is destroying the basic American village unit underlying all villages: the family. A coup d'etat overthrow of America from within the nation's core: the village or family; in fact Socialists gave us this clue in a political slogan 'it takes a village...' What remains unsaid is to destroy the village is to destroy the nation. Therefore we see 'American Princesses' raised within a broken climate of learned helplessness from womb to tomb like her foremothers to the point of 'worthlessness - nearly total, crippled, dysfunction'.

Nonetheless, miraculously, American family units continue to survive notwithstanding Socialism's ongoing genocide destroying them extinct.

This phenomenon is genderless!! However, the social occurrence affects far more young & older women than men due to the societal requirements that force boys to mature into men at earliest age to assume traditional male roles of family, father, protector and provider. THAT STILL EXISTS IN AMERICA, BINKY! This nonsense of no 'good men' that I constantly hear liberated 'American Princesses' whine about really translates into men refusing to undergo a relationship with an irresponsible, immature, flaky, women-child that never matured beyond preschool who will play fantasy until reality bursts her comfort zone. Then she dumps and runs leaving him or someone else with all her duties of children who need both parents to survive until developed enough to stand-alone. That is if the parents were fortunate enough to learn that from their parents! All knowledge is passed on and if the parents never learned it...no Buenos...they cannot pass on what they do not know to their young. Forget American Socialist failures to do it except in conditioning the young as slaves to the state ends and means. NOT GOOD! No? Then the reader is unconscious and not paying attention. Wake up from the Ipod and smell the reek of over 90 years of failed socialist policies, Binky. The war damage is everywhere.

Families with stable parents knowledgeable enough to home school, notwithstanding every state intent to stop them, retain an avant-garde edge over state institutions in raising well-formed kids into adulthood! Just ask the Amish. In modern times far more men are assuming all family roles when their flaky 'child' wives, who abandon him and her kids, runaway to find her 'lost self,' and dumps all her responsibilities onto someone else usually the father, or his or her parents aka "the children's grandparents." Nothing is sadder than a latchkey kid growing up all alone with lame-mass media and peers teaching s/he about a cruel world, which is throwing a babe into the starving lions den: aka child and teen drugs & prostitution to support her pimp, self and an addiction. Ever wonder how that lost child's picture one sees in IRS publications and milk cartons got there? Reread the aforewritten for a hint until you wake up enough to learn empirical thinking to reason it out. Concisely, those are the reasons. The real unabridged story plays out many times a day as news spun by TV talking heads cheerfully describing grisly crime scenes all over this country involving finding what remains of those lost kids. Some simply disappear never to be found. Sad.

One never hears about the single fathers raising kids after his wife or live-in 'mate' decided run away from her responsibilities to go find her 'true self' as a 'free woman and emancipated, liberated, Feminazis.' Or about the grandparents she dumps them on after a fling with some lounge lizard in the bar parking lot or on a one nighter, or after driving off her old man, or he works self to death, et al! Why is it lame-mass, Socialist, skewed mass media never mentions the lone fathers successfully raising a healthy and hale family without the women who abandoned her commitment? Why do we never hear about deadbeat mothers when he sues for child support for her abandoned kids that the Socialist, matriarchal controlled, state bureaucracies simply ignore in shelving his petition because of gender bias? Oh, no, this does not support our 'Socialist-state' lies so it must be suppressed. That nit-brained thinking hurts already wounded children all the more. Men not allowed only women...while the children suffer the most. Child support as it reads, Binky, is to feed and care for his and her 'children.' Bureaucrats would do well to buy a dictionary and thesaurus, learn to use, read and understand words then apply them in doing their jobs without bias or personal opinions. Ie: when VA denies a veteran his or her earned benefits, the agency is guilty of child abuse in worst way by harming his or her children through an untreated, disabled & sick parent. WHEN THAT PARENT LOSES IT S/HE IS THEN BLAMED AND DAMAGED MORE BY THE VERY FACETS THAT DID THE ORIGINAL HARM! THAT IS SOCIALIST STUPIDITY AND VICTIM BLAMING! This idiocy applies genderless now that woman fill military roles that sicken cripple and kill her, too. That is what feminist equality got you ladies. Remember the universe has no heart or brain, only consequences. Making wishes is the same.

What masses of people are misled to believe they create with unintended, unthought out consequences, which always go with that.

The Devil always lies in the fine print very few ever expect or read. Aka – THE FAUSTIAN CONTRACT TO THE DEVIL SIGNED IN YOUR BLOOD. NO VICTIM, NO CRIME UNTIL YOUR NAME IS ON THAT DOTTED LINE. That sage wisdom is beyond ancient but people fall for it every time. For all you misandrists, veteran suicide is not a male only problem anymore. Women veteran suicides are overtaking the men at hyper-speed for the same reasons as men have suffered them for millennia. Moreover, she is also killing self on active duty when her fantasy boundaries burst into the real, cruel, heartless, world for which she was never prepared - WAR. The sight of a child's body blown apart is not something anyone can be prepared for...words fail me but I will do my best to explain...one grows into it, as it were. Some cannot overcome that so their reality envelope implodes.

DO YOU GET MY DRIFT? When you snap that is how it goes down.

Consequences of abandonment by US government, VA and American people to care for their most vulnerable people - our veterans, our aged, and our children, in no particular order they all are equal in this and it is beyond inhumane. Think of the aforewritten consequences that in all likelihood you will face at some point in this unpredictable life. When your ego is puffed out as a proud, patriotic American think of how phony is that against the aforewritten reality that once again in all likelihood somewhere in your life that will grab you by the ass and not let go. Suicide is an option to stop the pain...ask 100 veterans who die by his or her hand daily to escape that kind of pain. There are fates worse than death in this life. 100 dead vets a day confirm that.

Circumstances leading to it can happen to anyone in a single moment.
 THAT IS YOU BINKY.

Until men begin to sire and birth children alone, a woman is involved in that final ends as the means to do it!!! It takes two to make and successfully raise a healthy and hale kid! Can you hear me runaway & single mothers. Blaming others in denial does not excuse your actions. The blame circle begins very large with many scapegoats in it. Over time they drop out one-by-one until only you remain in the center – alone – to face consequences of personal actions. Now what? Remember, doing nothing is an action with consequences. No cop-outs allowed.

THAT IS YOUR FACE IN THE MIRROR, BINKY.

I know an abandoned father with children and he not only had to sue state child support services but also involved his state representative to force them to force his ex to pay for her goddamned kids welfare that he was working three jobs supporting alone!! If not for his mother - the children's grandmother - minding them while he spent his youth doing his and her duty, they would've been home alone as siblings raising siblings which is so common in America today! Vocabulary fails me to describe my disgust at Socialism's damage to our most vulnerable and helpless little people: babies & children. There is so much of aforewritten going on in real life that lame-mass & skewed Socialist media, aka propaganda, censors from the people that it is unimaginable!!!

Deadbeat women ride free and high these days while the lone men continue to take it on the chin juggling personal life and family duties! However, only women do that according to society's skills. One look through the phone book for men's social services and support finds only YMCA, military, rehab AA, prison, and the morgue!!! Women's services fill enough pages the size of small town phone-book, including the yellow pages!!! Tell me again how she suffers! Men do so much with so little in this country while America's lazy, misandrist, worthless, over-educated; idiots grow fatter, lazier, and stupider! The late George Carlin said, "American's are stupid and half of them are stupider than that..." It was not the men to whom he primarily referred!

There are many, very dear, responsible, and wonderful women in America, but these days they seem an endangered species headed for extinction same as the men who are willing and able to sacrifice his entire life and dreams to the thankless, unrewarding & pointless lifetime drain of marriage & family. Good, reliable, dependable 'family men and fathers' are out here but we are not stupid enough to take a negative sum loss from cradle to grave, as our forefathers' were wont to do. Liberated ladies, you got all your wishes complete with the Devil in the details as unintended consequences. Meet Pandora and her proverbial box of curses....some things are best left alone and unopened.

Just like Bluebeard's forbidden closet....curiosity killed every cat that ventured to trespass there.

Public & higher education is producing more educated cripples or 'educated idjits' as my mother called them than ever before and nearly all of them are women! Far too many are now MD's, politicians, judges and in similar fields where she can do some real & lasting damage. AMERICAN'S ARE YOU LISTENING? Ie: medical school theoretically is to keep morons from practicing medicine. However, I have encountered far more village idiots with MD's in the last 4 years to last me 100 lifetimes and 90% of them were women that graduated as Socialist quota tokens!!! She cannot practice her way out of a paper bag if she could find the damned bag!!! That is scary!! Decades ago Dear Abby back in the newspaper days, wrote a full article only about US doctors that created a national firestorm that bests the worst California wildfire ever. She wrote, '[...Never forget that half of all US doctors graduated at the bottom half of their class. Half again below that and those are HMO or Socialized medical practitioners. Adding to that, below the very most bottom is where one finds VA doctors when the agency can attract, hire, and retain them. Otherwise it uses 'broken' untrained-nurse-children playing doctor with people's lives. National graveyards swell to overflowing with dead veterans murdered and killed while under VA care administered by these bureaucrats! Cemetery margins swell even more from veteran suicides also created and promoted by the worst healthcare system in USA: Dept of Veterans Affairs is a solely Socialist institution! That is today's sorry state of VA and US medical care.]

Moreover, finding old, wise doctors or healers is nearly like finding a gold hen's tooth!! Wisdom is never taught from books or school; it takes a lifetime to earn and that goes with the old time medical religion of using experience, eyes, ears, senses, acumen and gut intuition in diagnosing people especially in geriatrics!! In fact the best doctor anyone can be blessed to find is one possessing a geriatric, physician's wisdom. People are not one size fits all in a computer-generated paradigm! They are singular masterpieces that must be treated differently and individually!!! To hide medical ignorance, today's doctors use only a single tool such as lab results, to diagnose & treat diseases! Too many of them cannot read the damn things well enough to do that. That is terrifying!! Now I know why men I knew after a full physical walked out with a clean bill of health per the doctor's report. Then 3 months later he is back complaining of feeling bad. Another work up reveals stage 4 cancer throughout his body and he is dead in two weeks. What the fuck happened? Some MD did not do a thorough job or pencil whipped the labs, sent my friend a whopper bill, and forgot about it: NEXT! Like VA, modern medicine profits well from its mistakes.... then buries the bodies hiding them. A more recent absolutely bullshit cop out is that doctors are being humane by not telling a dying patient of the disease. WHY NOT! Give the sot a chance to close out his life! That is the biggest crock of shit since Betty Crocker burned her buns! You fucked up and now hide your crime, Ms. or Mr. MD! VA has been doing that out of sheer bureaucratic incompetence over a century. Who in hell are you trying to kid. And you grow rich being rewarded for those deadly mistakes, like VA has been doing over a century now. Go figure.

In many cases, the wisest doctor has already gone through later integration stages of the human condition – merging mind, body, and soul - aka 'Time of Ashes' or Dark Night of the Soul, or 'existential crisis' for you scientific twerps. which is common to every human since dawn of the Homo Sapiens Taxon. BTW, YOU WILL INDIVIDUALLY EXPERIENCE THIS IN YOUR LIFETIME GUARANTEED OR YOUR MONEY BACK!!! And that is when life is scariest of all. The winding down of the human life cycle into a wasteland of decline, departure, dying, and death into the 'crossing' from this state into the next experience of the 'universe's causal chain of existence' aka the circle of existence. Ie. Everybody knows when one thing dies another is born; when one thing ceases another becomes. YOU DO THIS ALONE! YOUR GURU AND SHRINK ARE FULL OF SHIT AND CANNOT HELP YOU! I DON'T CARE HOW MUCH YOU ARE PAYING THE QUACK! S/HE CANNOT HELP YOU, AND MOST LIKELY THAT PERSON IS MORE FUCKED UP THAN YOU ARE, AND IT HURTS. GET THAT STRAIGHT IT IS A SCARY & PAINFUL PROCESS.

The greatest 20th century mind Ayn Rand when a girl learned this gem: 'When I die the world does not end. Only my experience of it ends...' Profound! For those of you who are Ayn Rand averse the late George Carlin stated it differently just for you: "The world is not going anywhere, YOU ARE ASSHOLE!" For those in library of Congress reading bible stories Jesus the Nazarene said, to a man who asked how will the world end, "[everything will be normal... the world only ends for you.]" The same point stated three different ways by three different people in three different eras. Any questions? Get the drift?

This life experience is only a temporary span on an eternal path of cosmic evolution. Everybody knows that evolution is messy; simply take one look at childbirth. Warning do not eat beforehand especially pasta or pizza with tomato sauce. You will never look at it again with a sound stomach, Evolution has no heart or brain – only consequences. That is the key paradigm of this universe!

If it takes out a species so what, it simply makes another to fill the void. Nature hates holes always filling them with something! Just ask Adam and Eve. She said, ‘what are these 3 holes down there?’ Adam said, ‘You should know! You own them!’ So Eve said, ‘... lets fill them and see what happens.’ BABY! Now she has the shotgun hunting storks and Adam is nervous. The apple tree snake wisely quit playing with his prick and left town on the run and garden creatures never heard from him again.

For those PC – Socialist, special buttercups out there in Ms. Whoopee Cushion’s fantasy playhouse, and those of you stuck in ‘La-La, airy, fairy-land this is for you:

BINKY! GET THE FUCK OVER IT! THIS IS LIFE AND NOBODY OWES YOU UNEARNED ENTITLEMENT PUKES ONE WHIT OF NOTICE! THE UNIVERSE HAS NO HEART OR BRAIN... IT DOES NOT CARE ABOUT YOUR FEELINGS - YOU WILL DIE....AND A NEWS FLASH - YOU ARE LEAVING....SOON!! AND IT IS NOT JESUS OR THE MARTIANS WHO WILL COME TO SAVE YOU FROM YOUR SORRY SELVES. LEAVING IS NATURAL AND A SINGULAR EXPERIENCE. THE PLANET IS FINE AND GOING NOWHERE – ASSHOLES, YOU ARE LEAVING – SOON!

Moving on, Geriatric medical wisdom knows what to do with old people, and is damn good with everyone else, too. WISDOM is the secret sauce, and those who need the most empathy - help, and care on the way out of leaving this experience are as important or more so as a newborn needs coming in. It is a confusing, horrifying and painful process. I DON’T CARE WHAT YOUR SHRINK OR GURU SAYS – IT HURTS AND NEITHER ONE CAN HELP YOU! Just as a normal person would not abandon a baby to die alone why do we abandon our elderly to wither and die alone in the western world and America? Why? They sacrificed their lives building and leaving a world better than they found upon arrival while raising and putting up with young people’s stupid shit and doing it mostly alone – without any outside help. This whole fraud never helped them; it did everything to rob and trip up parents from success! Don’t you snot nosed brats think that your parents might have had better things to do with their lives?

Keep this in mind from the late great philosopher Alan Watts about birth, living, dying, death and rebirth:

‘...is it not absolutely AMAZING that the human being does so much each moment without an education about how to do any of it....!’ Think of what you do every second in just breathing without a damned, institutionalized, Socialist-village-idiot ever teaching you any of it! You could live on the moon and still know this!

Empathy - that is keystone to the ‘sage, wise, elder healers’ especially doctors of that old time religion, medicine man and woman that is lost to modern medicine.

THE SINGLEMOST REASON AMERICA IS LOST IN WILLFUL STUPIDITY IS BECAUSE IT IGNORES CENTURIES OF OLD, SAGE WISDOM IN THEIR ELDERS TO FOLLOW SOME DIP-SHIT, LAME-MASS, NEO-AGE IDIOT SELLING THE LATEST FAD TO WHATEVER. FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH STILL IS THE BIGGEST MONEY MAKING FRAUD SOLD TO WOMEN SO FAR BEYOND THE PALE EVEN THEIR MOTHERS CANNOT LOOK AT HER WITHOUT SCREAMING - GORGON!. GIVE IT UP LADIES. YOU WASTED YOUR DAYS IN THE SUN.

THERE IS NO FOOL LIKE AN OLD FOOL!
MUTTON WRAPPED UP AND MARKED AS LAMB IS STILL OLD MEAT.

Mother Theresa wrote the gospel about EMPATHY! She lived a life of empathy and took it to the Nth degree. She would live with her sick patients; often suffering their diseases as did they as an integral part of healing them. Why? This is the key to medical wisdom of a geriatric healer, She said, ‘when I suffer as do they then I can understand and treat their suffering....’

To know what is, is to know what is not!
In sum Mother Theresa's words were PROFOUND!

That is empathy!

When is the last time a western doctor did that?

THAT IS WHY THEY FAIL.

AA has an odd saying that follows Mother Theresa's point, "In helping another alcoholic to sobriety, I help me to sobriety." [We walk together holding hands of the same terminal disease and should that bind break we both die...]

Upon first hearing, that statement confused me dearly. How can the blind lead another blind person to see? Mother Theresa resolved that mystery by living a life confirming her beliefs!!! Rare in a world of all talk without the walk.....she spoke little and walked constantly. Which is the whole abstract first principle of the 'suffering Christ,' which underlies every 'Christ' archetype of every religion ever known to human philosophical beliefs after stripping away all the woo-woo sea of perversion under which it lies!!! That is C. G. Jung's entire philosophy merging mind, body and soul into his psychology paradigm that he struggled a lifetime to express in his writing!

Mother Theresa took a lot of misguided tarring from atheists such as Author Mr. Hitchens. Gracefully, she bore up under the attacks. None of that belonged to her but to the criminal corporation she served that exploited the woman as a corporate 'useful idiot poster child' robbing the poor of untold resources that were sent in support of her work that never made it down that far. Just as the US, Dept of Veterans Affairs does to veterans in its +400 billion dollar annual taxpayer budget that seems to vanish long before ever getting to the suffers that need help the most. I.e.: only fifty cents of every five dollars makes it that far down.... then most of that 50-cents walks purloined out the back door in employee pockets. 100 American veteran suicides - daily - screaming out our pain...cries from darkness that only a few hear.

Let's get one thing straight! Suicide is not cowardly; cowardly is when a country, its people, and their institutions FAIL so faultily and they abuse someone so badly, that s/he chooses to end their life to stop the pain - that is cowardly. Suicide is not easy or painless, and least of all NOT COWARDLY! It takes a lot of suffering & dying to kill a man. This is not Hollywood cinema or make believe; it is real life 101 cut to the tragic ending. 100 US veterans kill selves daily to end that pain.

Mother Theresa did miracles! Not in pageantry, 'woo-woo' out of thin air, slight of hand, entertaining unwashed masses, biblical magic tricks but in stretching scarce, real, resources tremendously well beyond what even Jesus' claimed using 3 loaves and 2 fishes feeding thousands. Mother Theresa and her disciples weekly helped tens of thousands of the poorest people, sickest people on this planet. One woman and many dedicated helpers truly did miracles beyond anything imagineable in this real world; not as a children's story written in some 'woo-woo' religious text! IN REALITY as a spiritual and physical medicine woman, she truly helped suffering people!!!

If ever there is a more perfect, unbroken woman, Mother Theresa sits on the pinnacle of heaven as she. That soul is the healing right hand of (The One) who rests upon the stars contemplating humanity.

America has so much and does so little wasting ample resources that it is beyond criminal. The point is a doctor's priceless wisdom as a healing power bests all the 'special effects' of Modern Medicine profiting far more from its mistakes than successes. Mistakes are easy to bill, bury, and forget, just as the VA has done over a century. Yet, that sage, good old time medical wisdom is nearly extinct in USA and perhaps why the nation suffers, more so now than at any other time in US history, from diseases, especially those involving 'mind, body and soul' as a singularity.

American Society criminally shortchanges our elders and that must stop now!!! One can judge much about how a country cares or does not care for its most vulnerable people: elderly, children, and veterans. USA ranking is cesspool filth bottom. I.e., Americans spend more on and take better care of their pets than their kids. 100 US veterans successfully die by suicide each day from not getting the care they need. Lastly, Americans waste their most priceless resource of all – the Elderly... rotting away in houses of the useless old people....don't even look at me about what goes on in those pest houses with cutesy names like 'A Place For _____' fill in your forgotten loved one's name rotting away out of sight and mind...stored and catalogued well away from too busy Americans to care about those who once cared for them while shitting their diapers and throwing up on selves during orientation into 'Hell's Romper Room & Real Life

101,’ ...used up and now delegated as wards of the Socialist State Old Folks Home and Penitentiary. Next stop graveyard.

AMERICA, EVER HEAR THE WORDS - THANK YOU, SENIORS?

America is an extremely young, immature, selfish and perhaps beyond hopeless culture among true civilized nations of the world. This arrogant, pompous ass, egoistic country floats under its windbag and fails where the older, more mature nations that it scorns excel beyond the stars. Those ‘backward’ nations in the East and Middle East do not have luxury of pointless holidays like America. They hold most treasured, national traditions as ‘holiday’ from working all week long eking out a handful of rice to eat. Reserving their moments of rest to honor their NATIONAL TREASURES the elders & the aged. Those people now on their way out of this life after spending it to make a better world for our children and to leave it enhanced over how they found it! Unlike Americans who destroy, hurt, cripple, kill, war, leave toxic garbage not only in those once American military occupied conquests but also in American backyards across the nation that disease them, their babies, their children and future generations as well. Condemning their immortality as poisoned seeds of future generations into a toxic dung heap for someone else to recover. Ie: Former Naval military base Treasure Island in CA; USAF plant #4 and attached airbase in TX under the latest name located on that reservation where it has been dumping and burying the worst toxins known to man into the earth, bordering lake, river, & underground aquifer since WW2. However, those are not unique to America at all. They abundantly exist across the nation. All these toxins are byproducts of producing weapons that cripple and kill people. Are not America and her slaves so clever? Spending untold trillions of trillions of resources robbed from its enslaved people to create WMD that not only destroy the planet, other nations, but their slaves, too? I never understood these parasites; one such American institution is the VA that kills its veteran hosts in the course of being a parasite. Eventually a parasite dies after exhausting hosts and either self-consumes to death or goes into hibernation awaiting new hosts on which to hatch, attach, feed and self-renew. The VA institution is predictably dying. One thing VA can do in self-preservation is, since it persists in being a parasite – STOP KILLING YOUR HOSTS! MORE MILITARY INTELLIGENCE! GO FIGURE!

American, toxic-dumping grounds replaced the Native American’s sacred hunting and burial grounds that once existed across North America. Original Nation’s people knew how to care for their mother earth that cared for them. SHE GAVE THEM LIFE! Invading immigrants disregarded these sacred covenants with the earth to dire end. The sacred fell during the worst, bloodiest, longest, human ethnic cleaning, and genocide known to Homo Sapiens history. THAT HAPPENED ON AMERICAN SOIL. Entire races of Native American Indian tribes, their ancient, sacred ways of life, traditions, and centuries of wisdom wiped extinct from this planet forevermore by INSANE colonization. America hunted the red skinned, first nation peoples, and their buffalo to brink of extinction orchestrating this nation’s eventual self-destruction now unfolding before current and future generations, should they ever evolve that far to be born.

In the genocide of this nation’s past we have doomed our future to ruin.

In bygone days the sun never set upon America's mother country the great, British Empire - ditto for her petulant, greedy child The American Empire. Which was an Imperialist expansion built over centuries during a worldwide, Western military occupation and cancerous spread now in final stages of a dying nation, perhaps a dying world? The rise and fall of human empires was predictable throughout the ages. America is no different. Every fallen empire suffers the same fate: it becomes yesterday's fake news or history in a revolving world order that yokes subjected slaves under new ownership & management.

Coming Soon to Americans, The Future Home, and Junkyard to Unsalvageable, and Broken Young People.... currently who are rotting out & via willful stupidity growing old far too fast.

A wise, old Sage once said,
'when you grow old too soon, GET SMART!'
